ZACK HAMMOND

Zack Hammond's pessimism pervades every aspect of his wit: his sometimes sardonic views on everything from marriage to convenience store prostitutes has garnered him the adulation of the audiences before which he offers his unconventional and bitingly sharp comedy.

STACY KENDRO

This month's Headliner! Stacy Kendro is a fun, irreverent comic with a bad attitude that is cunning, yet gracious, and above all, funny. Making observations and connecting with audiences has been her tenor, using energy and characters that people can relate to.

GREGORY JOSEPH

Gregory started out in politics ... But went into a business where people are funny (on purpose). He worked on Bill Clinton's campaigns in the 90's. His material is a mix of observational humor and current events.

Dinner included! Enjoy your choice of:

chicken parmesan or pork tenderloin served with roasted asparagus and potatoes
